

Inrate is an independent Swiss sustainability rating agency. Since 1991, Inrate links its in-depth sustainability analysis with innovative data and services for the financial industry. Inrate's ratings and data are a measure of the impact companies have with their activities on society and the environment as well as their actions to effectively tackle the global sustainability challenges. Inrate's research methodology has been developed and enhanced over the past 20 years. Our range of services includes ESG analysis, sustainability assessments and shareholder services under the zRating label.

For our office in Zurich, we are looking for a smart, dynamic and committed

Senior ESG Analyst (80 - 100%)

Your tasks:

- Ownership of the review and analysis of pre-filled sustainability profiles of listed companies.
- Validate ESG impact ratings in accordance with the internally developed methodology for assessing listed companies on their sustainability performance.
- Propose and perform diverse quality assurance tasks and drive new initiatives with our data provider.
- Conduct ESG assessment based on primary and secondary data, identify relevant controversies in company analysis and maintain sectors ESG analysis reports.
- Coordinate a sub-team of Junior ESG analysts and mid-level research analysts based in India.
- Actively support the further development of the methodology and drive new projects.
- Contact person for clients queries related to the methodology or the sector specific ratings.

Requirements:

- Master's degree or higher in a sustainability related field, ideally in environmental sciences, social or in economic sciences, banking and finance or similar.
- At least 5 years' experience in a similar position or in the field of sustainability, ideally in combination with experience in financial markets and with reporting standards.
- Relevant work experience in specific sectors such as energy, health, transportation or financial.
- Self-motivation, strongly analytical as well as entrepreneurial thinking, solution oriented coupled with a high degree of independence and willingness for above-average commitment.
- Project manager skills as an advantage.
- Excellent oral and written skills in English, German and any other language as an advantage.

We offer you an interesting and responsible position with flexible working hours, an entrepreneurial environment where you have the chance to further develop the sustainability of the financial markets.

Interested applicants with valid Swiss work permit and required attributes are asked to send a detailed CV and motivation letter by email to jobs@inrate.com, subject: "Senior ESG Analyst".

Zurich Office
Inrate AG
Binzstrasse 23
CH-8045 Zürich
Tel. +41 58 344 00 00
info@inrate.com
www.inrate.com

Geneva Office
Inrate SA
Rue de Berne 10
CH-1200 Genève
Tel. +41 58 344 00 00
info@inrate.com
www.inrate.com

Memberships

Partner

